Woman hails from Iervolino Entertainment. Henson, alongside Hudson and Washington, are set to take on "Pepcy & Kim" one of the seven installments in the upcoming anthology.

Written by Catherine Hardwick, the installment is based off of the true story of Kim Carter.

Hudson, an Oscar winner herself, is set to star as both Pepcy and Kim, with Washington playing opposite.

Per Variety, the piece is, "inspired by the true story of Kim Carter, a former addict who has used her story and her nonprofit, the Time for Change Foundation, to help homeless women and children break the cycle and reclaim their lives."

The piece is one of seven installments that "complete the puzzle" of the entire film, Tell it Like a Woman. Variety reports the project is, "a film made by and about women, comprised of seven segments that make one intertwining feature film."

Producer Andrea Iervolino shared a statement regarding the exciting announcement.

Producer Chiara Tilesi, founder of We Do It Together, a non-profit film production company that advocates for gender equality, also shared a statement in regards to the announcements.

Tilesi shared, “‘Tell It Like A Woman’ has been a very long journey, almost six years producing this film, and we couldn’t have asked for a better ending segment in ‘Pepcy & Kim.’”

Tilesi continued, “We are honored to have the immense talents of Taraji, Jennifer, and Pauletta, to bring Kim Carter’s powerful story to life...this segment reminds us that in life no matter how difficult the circumstance, there is a way to overcome any obstacle. It is so inspiring to see Kim Carter helping women across the United States with her non-profit, The Time for Change Foundation.”
