Over the past decade, the organization has made an indelible mark globally collaborating with the United Nations, NASDAQ, World Economic Forum and governments across the world, producing powerful films, educational programs, and campaigns that amplify women's voices. Its feature film Tell It Like a Woman was Oscar®-nominated in 2023 and screened at the UN General Assembly, underscoring its international impact.

"For the last 10 years, We Do It Together has worked to change the cultural roots of gender inequality through film, education, and social impact campaigns. Yet violence and disparity continue to rise worldwide. I am grateful that during the gala we will honor extraordinary women who inspire change. Our commitment is stronger than ever," says Tilesi.

The 10-year anniversary gala honored extraordinary women driving change worldwide. Award-winning actress and activist Sharon Stone received the Iconic Excellence Award for her humanitarian work in HIV/AIDS awareness, women's rights, and global justice. Also honored were remarkable women who have played critical roles in amplifying women's voices, including 16-time Academy Award-nominated composer Diane Warren; director Patricia Riggen; Beverly Hills Mayor Dr. Sharona Nazarian; CNN Hero Dr. Kim Carter; Bianca Balti and Dr. Rita Ali, founder of We 2 Matter.

The evening included the U.S. premiere of the internationally acclaimed I AM campaign, featuring, among others, Helen Mirren, Marisa Tomei, and Catherine Hardwicke. They join more than 50 influential women in art, culture, and cinema worldwide in celebrating identity, resilience, and empowerment through self-portrait videos paired with personal declarations beginning with “I AM.”

Master of Ceremony Giselle Fernandez led guests through an inspiring evening of awards, presentations, and recognition. The reception and red carpet was followed by the awards ceremony and a seated dinner, concluding with an exclusive private tour of the museum.

The gala highlighted We Do It Together's recent initiatives which reflect a global movement to amplify women's voices. The organization's collaborations have included international institutions like UN Women and the governments of the USA, Italy, UK, Japan, Chile, and Argentina, demonstrating its reach and influence. Through film, campaigns, and events, We Do It Together provides a platform for women to express themselves, showcase talent, and reshape culture.

The gala took place at the Mr. Brainwash Art Museum, created by world-renowned street artist and filmmaker Thierry Guetta (Mr. Brainwash). Known for his bold fusion of pop culture, graffiti, and contemporary art, the museum provides a space where art, imagination, and wonder converge—a fitting backdrop to celebrate a decade of women's empowerment. In celebration of this milestone, Mr. Brainwash donated an important art piece titled “Pop Wall,” a silkscreen and mixed media on canvas with splashed frame, to We Do It Together to be auctioned.

Renowned Italian artist Camilla Ancilotto designed the powerful and beautiful Victoria Award for We Do It Together that was presented to the honorees. Inspired by the ancient Winged Victory of Vani (2nd–1st century BC), the bronze statuette symbolizes light and rebirth, featuring restored gold-plated wings while preserving the aged bronze as a tribute to its origins. Each piece was crafted by Poignée, the esteemed Italian workshop known for creating the papal coats of arms for Popes Benedict XVI, Francis, and Leo.

Guests included Honorable Consul General of Italy in Los Angeles Raffaella Valentini, Derek Warburton, Taye Diggs, Romain Bonnet, Mary Bonnet, Mauricio Umansky, Diana Madison, Alexandra Lasky, Frank Mottek, and many others.
